ARMRIT MRI Technologist Examination Overview

STRUCTURE: The exam consists of two-hundred and twenty-five (225) multiple choice questions, based on one right/or best answer. The passing score is 75.

MR Physics: Basic, Intermediate and Advanced physics, Precession, Nuclear Alignment, Electromagnetism, Signal Generation, Molecular Formation, Nuclear Alignment, Chemical Shift, Susceptibility.

Clinical Applications: Pulse sequences, Image Parameters, Spatial Localization, Image Quality, Tissue Characteristics, Signal to Noise, Spatial & Temporal Resolution, Enhancement Agents, types of MR magnets, Coils, Artifacts. Contrast Agents.

Bioeffects, Safety and Patient Care: Screening Forms, ACR Zones, Magnetic Field Strength, Specific Absorption Rates, Thermal Injuries, Peripheral Nerve Stimulation, Implants, Translation Forces, Contrast Agents.

MR Cross-Sectional Anatomy: Brain, IAC, Pituitary, Brain-Stem, Circle of Willis, Carotids, Renal & Femoral Arteries Cervical/Thoracic/Lumbar Spine, Shoulder, Elbow, Wrist, Hip, Knee, Ankle, Foot, Thorax/Heart, Abdomen, Pelvis.

TOTAL EXAM TIME: Three-hours & Thirty Minutes.

Multiple Choice Questions: There is only one right and/or best answer to every question, there are no “multiple, multiple choice” questions (i.e., A and B; C and D). Candidates are advised to use all time allotted to ensure all questions have been answered.

In many MRI textbooks and manuals, the main static magnetic field will be symbolized B_0 , the radiofrequency (RF) B_1 and the components of the net magnetization vector, M_z in the longitudinal plane and M_{xy} in the transverse plane. The orthogonal (mutually perpendicular) axes of the gradient magnetic fields are oriented in the following directions (horizontal for simplification):

The logical (for educational purposes) gradient directions are; Slice Select gradient is G_z , phase encoding gradient is G_y and the frequency encoding gradient is G_x (the “read out” gradient). Understanding how the gradients are physically (actually) employed during a pulse imaging sequence is important to image quality, the management of motion artifact, flow effects and certain artifacts such as aliasing, chemical shift artifact, magnetic susceptibility, respiratory and cardiac activity. Understand the four tissue characteristics; Hydrogen concentration, T1 effects, T2 effects, and velocity (flow) effects, and the various pulse sequences that bring out these properties. The following pulse sequences are covered: Spin-echo, Gradient -echo, Inversion recovery, MRA, FLAIR, etc. Included in this review package is recommended reading material.

Note: Apply only if you are ready now to sit for & challenge the exam!
